Special Features:

Easier installation means lower labor costs

Requires less space overhead and does not hinder lighting or overhead storage

Maintenance is minimal and generally is performed by using light oil to springs, bushings and guides

Insulation and perimeter weather brush seal is an option. Insulation is a blanket of reflective double bubble insulation with a bright white interior color glued to inside of curtain. Weather brush is polypropylene strip of filaments mounted in an aluminum retainer which mounts to the door jamb and conforms to the corrugated surface of the door.

Specifications:

Door curtain is assembled of cold roll formed 26 gauge high grade galvanized steel coated in polyester paint. Panels are assembled and lock seamed to form a solid steel curtain.

Roller drum is 1" schedule 40 pipe with steel drums welded. Helical wound springs are factory installed to properly counter balance the weight of the door curtain.

Bottom edge is made of extruded aluminum and includes a blade style gasket seal.

Guides are made of extruded aluminum and has a plastic wear strip on to buffer door curtain.

Support brackets are constructed of 12 guage galvanized steel with heavy bushings to carry roller drum

Lock options: outside mounted pad lock hasp or inside box lock.

Clearances:

Side room required: 5.5"

Head room required: 14" up to 8' high 16" up to 10' high
